THE OFFICIAL NEWSLETTER # 23 APRIL 2015 OF THE PRAIRIE VIE INTERSCHOLATIC LEAGUE COACHES ASSOCIATION

FEBRUARY IS BLACK HISTORY MONTH

The University of Texas at Austin in partnership with the University Interscholatic League (UIL) and Division of Diversity and Community Engagement (DDEC) has provided a museum that has produced a one of a kind exhibit of the PVIL Years from 1920 to 1970. This museum has allowed the Prairie View Intersholastic League Coaches Assn (PVILCA) to display for view trophies, newspaper articles, records, state championships, jackets and many other artifacts. There is also a Travel Exhibit of the PVIL memorabilia at the UIL Building. The PVILCA has been recognized by the University of Texas as a Community Leader for it's Annual Leadership Awards Program held at George Washington Carver Museum (GWC). The PVILCA has received great assistance from President Bill Powell, Vice President Gregory Vincent and the DDEC Staff at the University in providing and preserving this history. Without the assistance of The University of Texas and the UIL this project of partnership would not be as successful as it is today. February is the traditional month designated by AISD and the nation as "Black History Month." In keeping with this tradition, the Prairie View Interscholastic League Coaches Association (PVILCA) extends an invitation to your congregation (adults and children) to visit and tour the PVILCA Exhibit at the Division of Diversity and Community Engagement Center (DDEC) located at 1009 East 11th Street, Austin, Texas 78702..tours can be arranged by contacting Edward L. Students at Kirbyville High School got a glimpse back in time at an amazing history when the Prairie View Interscholastic League (PVILCA) visted the school with a presentation of how the organization played a critical role in developing African American students in the arts, literature, athletics and music from the 1020's through 1967.PVIL Coaches Association members, Bill Roseman and Robert Brown are making their way through local elementary , middle and high schools to help educate local students and preserve the history of the PVIL.

Roseman is a Magnolia Spring native and lives in Houston and Coach Robert Brown is the PVILCA Chairman of the Board. Together the two have traveled to seven school districts in only five days to share and spread a passion that has spanned generations. Kirbyville

Carver sprinter inducted to Lincoln University Hall of Fame

The former Baytown George Washington Carver High School football and track & field athlete, Albert Wheatfall was recently inducted into the Lincoln University Hall of Fame in Jefferson City, Missouri as a track athlete. Wheatfall played high school sports in Baytown and was a two sports athlete at the George Washington Carver High School. He was a member of Carver's 1958 football state championship team and was a running back. In 1958, he won the 100-yard dash and the 220yard dash state champion-ships and ran the anchor leg on the 440-yard relay team that also won the state championship.

Albert was a member of Carver's 1959 track & field championship team and finished second in the 100-yard dash behind Aubrey Hawley of

Albert Wheatfall

Weldon High School-Gladewater and second in the 220-yard dash behind Homer Jones of Douglas-Pittsburg. Wheatfall again ran the anchor leg on the 440-yard relay team that won the state championship. After graduating from Carver high school, Wheatfall earned a track & field scholarship to attend Lincoln University in Jefferson City, Missouri. In 1962, he was voted MVP of the Midwest Athletic Association for his accomplishments at Lincoln University in the 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash and 440-yard relay.

A champion track athlete for Lincoln University, Albert Wheatfall set school records in the 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash and the 440-yard relay during his time with the Blue Tigers. I remember being an 8th grader who was moved up to the freshman track team and had an opportunity to see Albert Wheatfall practicing on the track at the old Memorial Stadium and running at track meets. Wheatfall had one of the best running forms I've ever seen for a high school sprinter. I also witness that he had no one else on the track team at that particular time that could run with him or give him any real competition. He was in a class by himself. Albert never had any real competition until he participated in state competition. He was the type of sprinter whom I personally think only ran as fast as he had to run to win. His only two losses, taking 2nd place that I can remember in high school was at the state track meet in 1959 against Aubrey Hawley in the 100-yard dash and Homer Jones in the 220-yard dash. He never saw either one of those guys because he was told to watch someone else. I truly believe that if he had known about either of those two other guys and was running as fast as he was capable of running, he could have beaten both Hawley in the 100 yard dash and Homer Jones in the 220yard dash that day.

I also remember Lincoln University running at an annual Texas Southern University track meet in the early 60's. Albert was running the anchor leg for the Lincoln University Blue Tigers track team. Florida A & M University sprinter Bob Hayes (Bullet Bob) was anchoring their 440-yard relay. Bullet Bob got the baton in front of Albert Wheatfall and Albert walked him down to win that race. Bob Hayes grabbed one of his legs after crossing the finish line and after realizing that Wheatfall had beaten him. I and many others witnessing that race thought that nothing was hurting Bob Hayes, except his pride, because Albert Wheatfall walked him down on that track at the old Jeppesen Stadium that day. All you could hear in the stands during that race was whuuuu...

The recent induction of Albert Wheatfall into the Lincoln University Hall of Fame is the second Hall of Fame induction for this outstanding Baytown track athlete. Wheatfall was also inducted into the Prairie View Interscholastic League Coaches Association (PVILCA) Hall of Fame in 2011 as a former George Washington Carver High School track athlete.

students learned about our very own, Brady Beauregard, who was a teacher and coach at Kirbyville High School from 1956-1967. In 1963, Beauregard led Kirbyville to the PVIL-1A State Championship, defeating Smithville, 64-45, in the title game. His 1967 Kirbyville team was also a state finalist, only losing to Mt Enterprise with a heated score of 61-39. After retiring, Beauregard enjoyed fishing and other outdoor activities. He passed away March 19, 2001.

The PVIL has had its share of challenges, but continues to thrive, overcoming each hurdle placd in front of them. According to the UIL Texas website, the PVIL was originally called the Texas Interscholastic League of Coloered Schools. The PVIL served as the governing body for extra-curricular activities for Texas' African American high schools. The history of the Prairie View Interscholastic League began in 1920 when the League was organized by the Colored Teachers State Association of Texas and the Negro School Division of the State Department of Education. In 1923 the TILCS came under the authority of Prairie View A&M College, thereby becoming the Prairie View Interscholastic League.

The structure and format was similar to the UIL. PVIL competitions iincluded arhletics, typing, declamation, music and extemporaneous speaking. The PVIL staged state championship games in football, basketball, baseball and track. At is peak, it enrolled 500 schools. Many famous former PVIL students include Barbara Jordan, Gene Upshaw, Charley Taylor and Joe Greene. The PVIL proudly served as the main academic and athletic competition organization for Texas' African American students for most of the 20th Century.

Fallen legend: Bastrop mourns loss of educator, public servant

Although Coach Jimmie Lee Emanuel was a native of Oakwood, Texas where he was born on December 3, 1923, he became an undisputed leader in Bastrop County. A graduate of Prairie View A & M University receiving a Bachelor of Science degree in Agriculture and a Master's Degree in Educational Supervision, he was a motivating figure in his church, education and community. 2015 PVILCA Hall of Fame and Hall of Honor Banquet July 18, 1:30 p.m.

Hebert's LeVias, Wells top 2015 PVILCA HOF/Hall of Honor class

Beaumont Hebert's Jerry Levias, the first black scholarship football player in the Southwest Conference, and Warren Wells, one of the all-time great wide receivers, will be among over 100 inductees into the 2015 class of the PVILCA Hall of Fame and Hall of Honor Induction ceremonies set for July 18, 1:30 p.m. at the Westin Galleria in Houston.

Other notable inductees include, quarterbacks Karl Douglas (Houston Worthing) and Leo Taylor (Jack Yates), tight end Rhome Nixon (Yates), and basketball center Dwight Davis (Worthing). A meritorious award will be presented to Capt. Paul J. Matthews of the National Buffalo Soldiers Museum.

The PVILCA's annual banquet has grown with each year setting a new record for attendance. Last summer's event had a gathering of over 800 in San Antonio and another large crowd is expected for the Houston event."We're delighted that the banquet's popularity has grown along with our organization's membership," said Robert Brown, PVILCA board chairman. "Our motto is "Remembering the Past With Pride," and the banquet typifies that. It's a day for reunion, camaraderie, remembrance, appreciation, and recognition. Through the years, there have been so many incredible people – coaches, athletes, administrators, and others - who made the PVIL experience something special, and for many of them this is the only public recognition of their participation and service. "The existence of the PVIL and its all-black schools is a time we won't see again, so this is a wonderful opportunity for families and friends to come out and share in the recognition with their own sense of pride. And we have another outstanding class of inductees this year." LeVias tops the list. He starred as a quarterback at Hebert, but in 1966 when he suited up at Southern Methodist University he was a wide receiver for head coach Hayden Fry. LeVias was the first black scholarship athlete in the Southwest Conference and the second black football player in the Southwest Conference. (John Westbrook, a running back, was a walk-on at Baylor and played in a game for the Bears one week before LeVias' debut.) LeVias was an All-American (athletic and academic) as a senior and twice led the league in receiving and left SMU with numerous school and conference career records. With the Houston Oilers, he was selected to the 1969 American Football League All-Star Team. He is a member of both the Texas Sports Hall of Fame and the College Football Hall of Fame.

Wells was an exciting receiver with speed and sure hands at Hebert, Texas Southern University and with the Oakland Raiders. He was a 12th round pick by the Detroit Lions in 1964, played one season there, but was called to the Army for two years. After his discharge, he signed with the Raiders and played four seasons becoming the prime deep target for quarterback Daryle Lamonica, who became known as the "Mad Bomber."

In Wells' best season, 1969, he caught 47 passes for 1,260 yards and 14 touchdowns, leading the American Football League in receiving. He was twice named to the Pro Bowl (1968, 1970). Prairie View's great defensive back Ken Houston, an NFL Hall of Famer, has said of Wells: "Warren was the original 'Dr. Doom.' He was cold-blooded."
